

Soil Health & Cover Crop Workshop

Sponsored by

Western New York Soil Health Alliance

A Farmer – to – Farmer Network

Including:

- Introduction of Western New York Soil Health Alliance
- Keystone Speaker: Jeff Rasawehr – “Soil health basics and why to start cover cropping”
 - Jeff uses no till and cover crops on 900 acres on his farm in Ohio. Jeff is also a co-owner of Centerseeds and the Cover Crop Ranch Meat Company. His presentation focuses on how to transition and how to begin to develop a profitable system approach to managing soil health with cover crops.
- Farmer panel - showing & discussing on-farm trials
 - How to start cover cropping & advice for the beginner.
- Cornell Climate Smart Farming Program –Darcy Telenko
 - New tools to help manage your crops.
- WNY Soil Health Alliance Membership Meeting
 - Learn about the newly-formed alliance and its bright future.

When: Thursday June 30th, 2016, 9am – Noon

Where: Elba Fireman’s Recreational Hall

7143 Oak Orchard Road, Elba, NY 14058

To register for this FREE event, please contact:

Orleans Co. Soil & Water Conservation District
585-589-5959

Dennis.Kirby@ny.nacdnet.net

Genesee Co. Soil & Water Conservation District
585-343-2362

Molly.Stetz@ny.nacdnet.net

Supported by the Genesee & Orleans Co. Soil & Water Conservation Districts