

Quality Milk Program

January 11, 2017

Mo's Pub and Grill
Malone, NY
10-3PM

January 12, 2017

Cornell Cooperative Extension of Lewis
County Lowville, NY
10-3PM

Guest Speakers:

- Jessica Scillieri Smith, DVM, Senior Extension Associate, Quality Milk Production Services, Canton NY
- Rick Watters, PhD, Senior Extension Associate, Quality Milk Production Services, Warsaw NY

Topics (30 min each):

- Economics
- Review of anatomy and physiology
- Basics on mastitis causing pathogens
- What to do with a negative culture
- Milking procedures – from the basics to new technologies
- Equipment – a pulsator is a pulsator, no matter where it's located
- Keeping good records and using the information you have

Registration:

Cost is $35.00 per person.

Register Online at:

https://reg.cce.cornell.edumilkqualityprogram2017\_10512

For more information contact Tatum Langworthy at 315-788-8450 or email at t1m92@cornell.edu.

Cornell University
Cooperative Extension
Northern New York Regional Ag Team