

Webinar:

Inside the 2018 Margin Protection Program

Significant changes to the Margin Protection Program (MPP) for dairy producers were made in the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2018. The Farm Service Agency has recently announced new implementation rules to accommodate the changes. Mark Stephenson and Andrew Novakovic, from the University of Wisconsin and Cornell University, will conduct a webinar to walk you through these changes and to assess impacts on producers who participate in MPP. You can register to watch the webinar at home (<https://DairyMarkets.org/register/>) or you can go to one of these local CCE offices to watch a live stream of the webinar and have some discussion.

Monday April 9, 2018, 1-2pm

Webinar Speakers:

Andrew Novakovic, The E.V. Baker Professor of Agricultural Economics, The C.H. Dyson School of Applied Economics & Management, Cornell University

Mark Stephenson, Director of Dairy Policy Analysis, The University of Wisconsin, Madison

FREE! No registration necessary to attend the webinar in person at a CCE office.
