

2024 Steuben County Crop Symposium

Join us at Cornell Cooperative Extension of Steuben County for the upcoming Crop Symposium! This program designed for Field Crop Producers will provide the latest research-based information on land rental prices, stand productivity and pest management strategies in corn, pastures, and hayfields.

Land Rent Pricing

Hear from Business Management Specialist Katelyn Walley on what you need to determine land rent prices.

Integrated Pest Management

Katelyn Miller will present the principles of Integrated Pest Management and why you should utilize them for your operation.

Tar Spot in SWNY

With the increased prevalence of Tar Spot in the region, Emeritus Professor Gary Bergstrom will cover all the new information regarding the disease's spread and management.

Weed Control in Pastures and Hayfields

Have weed problems in your pastures and hayfields? Vipin Kumar, Assistant Professor in the Weed Science Lab will discuss general management strategies to get rid of those pesky weeds.

Restoring Productivity to Weather Damaged Hayfields

Joe Lawrence, Forage Systems Specialist with PRO-DAIRY will discuss how to reinvigorate your hayfields and boost their productivity after extreme weather events.
