

The New York Pork Producers, Cornell Cooperative Extension, and Pro-Dairy Present:

CONVERTING OLD DAIRY BARNS INTO SWINE FACILITIES

Zoom webinar

Wednesday, January 21st, 6pm - 7:30pm

As we continue to see transitions away from traditionally small dairies across the state, we have identified opportunities to rethink the interior design of these barns to be more suitable for other livestock. Tim Terry, Strategic Planning Specialist with Cornell University's Pro-Dairy Team will be speaking on repurposing these facilities in order to most successfully raise hogs. Considerations that will be highlighted include flooring, ventilation, lighting, and efficiency of design.

Cornell University
Cooperative Extension

This event is free through the generous support of the National Pork Board.
Registration is required. This event will be recorded.

Questions? Contact Emma
info@newyorkpork.org or 845-905-6962

Register online at:
<https://tinyurl.com/BarnConversion25>