Dear Interested Business,

The Southwest New York Dairy, Livestock, and Field Crops Program is a regional partnership between Cornell University and the five Cornell Cooperative Extension offices of Allegany, Cattaraugus, Chautauqua, Erie and Steuben Counties. Our team of specialists offers free and low-cost educational programming and research-based information to producers, growers, and agribusinesses within our five-county region.

Our local agricultural community is at the heart of what we do, and to honor that 2026 is internationally recognized as the Year of the Woman Farmer, we are hosting a Tractor Safety Workshop at two locations within our region. This hands-on educational event will bring participants together to build skills, gain confidence, and connect with fellow producers around farm safety and equipment operation.

To help make this event successful and accessible, we are seeking sponsorship partners who share our commitment to supporting farm safety. Your donation will keep costs low for our participants, covering instruction, teaching materials, and program supplies. If this is a program you are interested in, we have a few ways you can support us.
